Rally in Midsession is Not Maintained—Money 15 Per Cent-Short Sellers Become Aggressive

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.-12:30 p. m .-Following on yesterday's weak close the opening was far from satisfactory. There is no question but the failure of the relief measures inaugurated by the Treasury Department to give more or ess permanent strength to the market, gave encouragement to the bears and made them more aggressive than ever. Close observers of the situation have become satisfied that liquidation by Standard Oil interests of securities taken over to help stay the tide of October, has about ceased, and this should prove a strong card in the market. The fact that very few brokers or commission houses will execute buying orders, save on cash payments, is readily noticed by the bears, who are and will ever be margin traders. They are welcomed as alds in carrying stocks at this time and they are inclined to press their advantage on the slightest evidence of London was rather weak at the opening, and the opinion there was that while confidence might be somewhat restored and the perial avoided by currency measures, the commercial and manufacturing industries were bound to suffer seriously.

Opening Weak.

our own market opened at about yes terday's close and in the first hour there vere some declines, amounting to perhaps 1/2 and 3/4 of a point. The bears pressed for still further advantage, but found that there was support under some stocks and that the pressure of quidation showed a material let-up, and as a result they tried to cover a part of their contracts.

The last hour of the morning brough considerable show of strength and in he rally an average improvement of Steels, while there was a demand for Union Pacific, the Hill shares, Sugar, and Southern Pacific, The weaklings were General Electric, Eric, Smelter, and Et. Paul, the latter being again un-der pressure.

Cash Buying.

The low prices brought the usual number of cash buying orders, and in time this buying must be felt in the market-must absorb thousands of shares of stock and remove the selling pressure cc-equally.

Atchison was 1/4 off and recovered the quarter and an additional 1/2, seiling to Baltimore and Ohio was % off and recovered the decline and ¼ additional. Erie was weak and dropped to 13%, a loss of nearly a point. Great Northern, on the rally, touched 112½ after a decline to 111½, but at no time was this stock more than ½ below yesterday's figures. Northern Pacific was ½ lower, early to rise to 1654-5, or the fraction net advance. General Electric lost ¾ and recovered nothing. Union Pacific opened ½ higher on good buying, declined ¾, recovered from 33% to 95, and lost ¾. Reading made the good gain on this morning's market of 1½ net, after losing ¾, making a 1% recovery from low. Sugar gained a point. Copper, 45% to 45 to 46¼ to 46. Smelten, 60½ to 59½ to 61¼ to 61, the latter a ¾ net loss. Steel common gained nearly a point, and the preferred ¾. recovered the decline and 14 addi-

1:30 p. m.—There were some recession from the high point of the day, but the market became very quiet, and uninteresting. There was some profit-taking at the advances of the morning, and the bears renewed their selling. Many of the stocks held the greater part of their advance into the second hour of the afternoon and the pressure was not especially serious.

3 p. n.—During the afternoon the market gradually weakened, very many of the stocks going below the low record of yesterday and some making a new low price on this break. St. Paul touched 33%, Union Pacific, 108%; Reading, 18%; Pennsylvania, 107; Northern Pacific, 104; Great Northern, 1994; Copper, 45; Steel, common, 22%, and preferred 79½.

This break was followed by ferred 73%.

This break was followed by some slight recoveries and a closing above the low, but the market was by no up.

Washington investors are conent to let well enough alone, and, for this reason, they are making it part of their religion to keep away from the market.

Mergenthaler made a new low record at 187. If it must be sold the would-be buyers know that holding off will get the persimmons at lower prices. There was considerable activity in Mitchell Mining, 500 shares selling at % and 100 shares at %.

Capital Traction 5's have apparently found a peg at 11c, Washington Railway 4's sold at 77. One sale of Capital Traction shares was made at 125. At the election, which followed the regular meeting, the full official roster was re-elected, without opposition. After their election the successful candidates, successors of themselves, were photographed.

COLUMPUS, Ohio, Nov. 20.—The executive committee of the State League of Republican Clubs met in the assembly room, of the Neill House, this afternoon ostensibly to fix the time and place for the annual meeting, but really to adopt resolutions indorsing Senator Foraker. This teature of the meeting has brought to the city many old-time adherents of the senior Senator.

Such Foraker wheel horses of former days as W. S. Cappeller, of Mansfield; Malcolm Jennings, of Lancaster; C. H. Bryson, of Athens; Congressman H. C. Bannon of Portsmouth; James Welker, of Canton; former Congressman J. A. Beidler of Cleveland; former Senator C. C. Connell of Columbiana county; D. O. Rutan, of Caldwell, and John W. Bargar, of Fike county.

With them came such Dick rollowers as ex-Senator Patterson of Pike county, and Mike Statter, of Dayton, to join Warden Gould, and other local Dick into the city. Two workmen at the new Union station had a narrow escape from serious injury and probable death this morning when a big rafter fell from the top of the main rotunda. The men were working directly beneath the big beam which was agout eight inches square and twelve feet long.

Workmen on the celling were shifting a scaffold when the rafter worked itself gan loose and dropped to the floor, The men on the ground were leaning over and had no knowledge of their danger and had no knowledge of their danger until warned by the yelling of those overhead. Just before the board reached then they dodged.

A crowd of passengers was in the walting room watching the work of inlaying the celling and stood horrorstricken when the beam gave away.

When young Landis was nine years old his father moved to Logansport, Ind., and the youngster worked as a newspaper carrier and on the farm in addition to going to school. When he finished his first year in high school he worked six months in a grocery store. Then he studied shorthand and became a court reporter at Crown Point, Ind.

Later he attended a law school at Cincinnati, and went from there to Chicago, where he was graduated from the Union College of Law in 1890. For a year and a half he practiced law, and then the late Waiter Q. Gresham, of President Cieveland's Cabinet, took him to Washington as his private secretary. Judge Gresham had commanded the regiment in which Landis' father served, and there always had been a warm friendship between the two families.

In 1905 Landis was indorsed for Federal judge by Hopkins and Lorimer, then leaders of the "Federal crowd" in Illinois. President Rooseveit appointed him Federal judge on the strength of his political "pull," and has not since had cause to regret it.

Landis never was a professional politician. One of his brothers is Charles E. Landis, a member of the House of Representatives from Indiana, and another is Frederick Landis, who was a Congressman for feur years, up to last March. Another brother, Waiter Landis, is posimaster at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Judge Landis, in 1895, married Miss Winifred Reed, of Ottawa, Ill., a sisterin-law of the late James H. Ecklos. There are two children—Reed, a boy of ten years, and Susanne, a year younger.
